

Georgia

To Do Club experts are the authors of public procurement reform in Georgia which was initiated in 2009. Services provided:

- Design and implementation from the scratch and successful management of fully fledged electronic public procurement system Ge-GP.
- Change management;
- Creation and management of the reform team;
- Creation of concept based on visionary approach;
- Legislation drafting;
- Business process implementation;
- Designing and development of In-house IT solution;
- Creation of Georgian Registry of Electronic Guarantees;
- Facilitation of internet access for every rural school, kindergarten and all other budget organizations;
- Implementation of Business Intelligence system;
- Design and creation of electronic dispute review mechanism;
- Support to Transparency International in creation of public procurement monitoring portal Tender Monitor;
- Ge-GP integration with other eGovernance services;
- Capacity building activities: design and creation of training centre; training curricula for procuring entities and suppliers;